CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member at Congress,
Seventh Ohio District

Last week the House passed and sent on its way to the Senate the supplementary National Defense Bill calling for expenditures of more than one billion seven hundred million dollars. This expenditure amount is in addition to the more than three billion three hundred million dollars already appropriated and brings the total amount allocated by the present Congress for national defense purposes up to more than five billion dollars. This is the largest amount ever set aside for the fighting forces of the United States government in any one year with the exception of 1918, when approximately six billion dollars was appropriated for World War purposes.

President Roosevelt's Charlottesville speech lead the way for America's open support of the Allies cause through the furnishing of war material and supplies. There seems to be no question but that the vast majority of American citizens desire that all possible aid, through the sending of combat supplies to Europe, be given the Allies in their hours of extremity. However, the problem that confronts Congress is just how far the United States can go in furnishing needed supplies and equipment to the Allies without injuring this country's national defense, or drawing the United States into the European conflict as an active participant. To go too far might prove a fatal error; for the United States today is unprepared to fight either an offensive or defensive war.

Congress will not adjourn sine die on June 22nd. Administration leaders have given up their attempts to get a sufficient number of members to agree to such adjournment and are now openly admitting that Congress will remain in session. The present administration strategy is to endeavor to obtain a Congressional recess until some time in August. Those who believe Congress should remain in session insist that a recess of six or eight weeks is almost as bad as adjournment, pointing out how rapidly events have developed during the last six weeks and that anything may happen during the next several weeks. When the folks back home were heard from, many Congressional Members changed their minds about adjournment. In all probability the people back home will again advise Congress not to recess for any long period of time.

The House has passed, and the Senate is now considering, the National Defense Tax Bill. As predicted, the measure, as approved by the House, contains a flat ten percent increase or surtax on all income taxes, both personal and corporate; has increased taxes in some of the brackets; and has lowered exemptions to eight hundred dollars for single persons and two thousand dollars for married persons. The House Bill also increases Federal taxes on gasoline, tobacco, beer and liquor and many other items now bearing excise taxes. Tax experts estimate that the House Bill will bring in approximately one billion dollars a year in additional Federal revenue. The Senate Committee now considering the House Tax Bill is said to favor further increases in numerous tax items, with a strong bias insisting on further lowering of income tax exemptions.

If the present international crisis has done nothing else, it has brought about Congressional action in connection with the case of Harry Bridges, the maritime labor leader, of San Francisco. Bridges has been accused of having Communist connections and tendencies. Labor trouble on the water fronts of the Pacific Coast has been almost continuous for many years, with a bad effect on shipping and business. Numerous attempts have been made to have Bridges deported as an undesirable alien. Only last year a lengthy hearing was held in San Francisco by representatives of the Department of Labor in connection with deportation proceedings against Bridges. Recently a bill was introduced in Congress making mandatory the deportation of Bridges to Australia. Administration leaders attempted to keep the bill from being brought to the floor for action, but after numerous preliminary skirmishes the bill was passed by a vote of 300 to 100 despite pleas of more liberal members of Congress that the bill was unfair and unconstitutional. It now goes to the Senate for the consideration of that body.

According to latest reports, Chairman May of the Military Affairs Com-

FORM YOUR OWN JUDGMENT ON YOUTH TRAINING ARMY

The announcement Wednesday that Roosevelt had named Sidney Hillman, Communist labor union leader, New York, as head of the commission to plan for military training for boys and girls under a bill to be offered in congress gives the parents of America the tip of the New Deal following the European idea of training young people for soldiers while in their teens. Four million boys and girls 18 years of age would fall under the Hillman guidance in government camps. The bill if passed provides for no exemptions. The Republicans will continue to oppose registration of youths as they do of business and farming.

LAW QUOTED ON TRAITORS BY C. P. JUDGE

The events of the week recording the fall of France brings the European situation home closer to the American people than the fall of the smaller powers, many of which fell due to traitorship within their own government ranks.

For years Communism has been boring into every form of government on the globe through officialdom unfaithful to their oaths and backed by "intelligence," that has been known to spread the doctrine of Russia through our schools and colleges. Many of our most important governmental posts have been filled by known Communists from Harvard University, the cultural center for the Stalin form of government.

To bring the critical situation home to Greene county citizens Judge Frank L. Johnson, of the Court of Common Pleas has issued the following statement:

"No doubt the fall of France was accomplished not only by the effectiveness of the German war machine, but also, by treachery within France of many of her own citizens."

"The Germans may never get as far as America. We hope they don't. But if they do, we should be prepared not only for them but, also, we should be prepared against any disloyalty, on the part of any of our own citizens," which is only a polite name for traitor, and a demand has been made for a law to be passed to deal with them; but there has been on the statute books of the State of Ohio for many years a law which covers the situation. The statute in question, Section 12,392, provides:

"Whoever levies war against this State or the United States OR KNOWINGLY ADHERES TO THE ENEMIES OF EITHER GIVING THEM AID AND COMFORT IS guilty of treason against the State of Ohio, and shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary during life."

Section 12,393 provides: "Whoever having knowledge that any person has committed or is about to commit treason willfully omits or refuses to give information thereof to the Governor, a Judge of this State, or the President of the United States, is guilty of treason, and shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary not less than ten years or more than twenty years."

"This does not mean that neighbor should spy upon neighbor or report more rumors or hearsay, but if anyone has substantial evidence that anyone is committing any of the acts within the above section, then they should report the matter to me at once, and the Grand Jury will be called and the offenders given swift justice."

Let's keep America safe from enemies within as well as from abroad."

Coach Joe Waddle Leaves Spring Valley

Joe Waddle, coach at Spring Valley High School for the last three years, has resigned and has accepted a position as coach of the Jefferson Twp. schools, Montgomery county, entering upon his duties when school opens in September.

During his three years in the Valley schools Joe had the honor of winning two Greene county championships in basketball. In 1938 his quintet reached the state tournament at Columbus and lost to the fast North Canton team. The past year the team lost to New Carlisle in the tournament at Springfield.

Gov. Bricker Calls Legislature To Action

The Ohio legislature is in special session this week being called by Gov. Bricker to enact laws to provide for increased old age pensions under a federal law and also to separate the national ticket from the state ticket for the fall election. This has been advocated for several years and puts candidates for governor on their own instead of riding behind a party presidential nominee. All the legislation recommended will be passed under the emergency clause and not subject to referendum.

MOONSHY IN THE ORDER

Louis B. Melzer editor of the Cleveland Press, in an address before the Ohio State Association of Township Trustees and Clerks in session in that city stated: "If ever there was a time when patriotism called for the service of men who can make one taxpayer's dollar do the work of two that time is the present."

Three Rabies Cases Reported

Three cases of Rabies occurred between Friday, June 14th and Monday, June 17th; one near Jamestown, one a mile beyond Cedarville and the other three miles from Xenia on the Wilmington Pike.

The Health Department on several occasions has requested dog owners to limit activity of animals to premises.

The General Code of Ohio Laws, Section 5809 is as follows: "A person, firm or corporation being the owner or having the charge of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, goats, swine, DOGS or geese, shall not permit them to run at large in the public road, highway, street, lane or alley, or upon unenclosed land."

If dog owners will obey the above quoted statute, it will not be necessary to reapply the quarantine.

S. K. Smoot Is Found In Florida

S. K. Smoot, former operator of the South Charleston stockyards, was recently located in Sebring, Fla., and has been returned to Springfield to face charges of obtaining money under false pretenses.

According to officials, Smoots in July, 1938, represented to John Howell that he had a contract for the purchase of 28,000 head of lambs from Ed Gerry, Great Falls, Mont., and for that reason gave Smoots a check for $800 in payment for 800 head.

The check was cashed. It is alleged and that there is no such person as Gerry in Great Falls. Smoot is charged with living in Sebring, Fla., under an assumed name.

Sheriff George Benham, Springfield, states he has a warrant for Smoot from Winchester, Ind. calling for the arrest of Smoot on a similar charge in that city.

LETTER TO THE HERALD.

TO THE CITIZENS OF GREENE COUNTY:

In the Tuesday News Dispatches there was carried an item that a statement in defense of civil liberties of the Communist party had been signed by twenty-one members of the faculty and administrative officers of Antioch College, Yellow Springs. The statement among other things is alleged to have contained the following: "We are not Communists and we are not concerned at this moment with the merits or demerits of the doctrines advocated by Communists. We are interested only in the indisputable merits of our American tradition of free speech."

This in my opinion is an outrageous statement on the part of the persons who made and signed it. The "movement" referred to is the present which may be one of the most crucial moments in American history. Yet persons who are molding the lives, thoughts and souls of young Americans are not concerned in the teaching of the Communist party, whatever that teaching may be, even though it may go so far as to teach the overthrow of our American way of Government and our free institutions. In every Communist government free speech is banned—the very thing they say they want.

Under the law we only have a right to free speech as long as it does not hurt someone. For instance, a person has no right to exercise free speech to the extent that it spreads a libel or slander against a person, and no person has a right to free speech to the extent that it undermines or advocates the overthrow of our Republic. Such speech is not free speech—it is treason.

It is high time in America that all Communists and their sympathizers, whoever they may be, should be stopped. If this Government is not good enough for them, let them take themselves to a Communist Government, Soviet Russia, and then try to do the things that they claim they are privileged to do under our Constitution.

Sincerely yours,
F. L. JOHNSON

NEW DEALERS WAR AGAINST LINDBERGH

In view of the fact that New Deal politicians, including Sen. Key Pittman, Texas Democrat, attached Col. Charles Lindbergh over the air for his views in staying out of the European war, we are giving our readers the opportunity in reading the full address on "Our Drift Toward War." Sen. Pittman, who says the administration is against war, and Hitler dictatorship, makes a dashingly attack on the Col. for expressing his views on the ground he is dividing the nation on this issue. Pittman would deny Lindbergh the right of free speech, just what Hitler, Stalin, and Mussolini do in their countries.

The following is the Col.'s address: "I have asked to speak to you again tonight because I believe that we, in America, are drifting toward a position of far greater seriousness to our future than even this present war. There is an attempt to belittle the issue that confronts us. It is not alone an issue of building an adequate defense for our country. That must and can be done. Our people are solidly behind an adequate military preparedness, and no one believes in it more than I. But we must not confuse the question of national defense with the question of entering an European war. And it is just as important not to confuse this present war with the type of war we would have to wage if we fought against Germany. Arming for the defense of America is compatible with normal life, commerce, and culture. It is an integral part of the destiny of our nation. But arming to attack the continent of Europe would necessitate that the lives and thoughts of every man, woman and child in this country be directed toward war for the next generation, probably for the next several generations. "We cannot continue for long to follow the course our government has taken without becoming involved in war with Germany. There are some who already advocate our entry into such a war. There are many perfectly sincere men and women who believe that we can send weapons to kill people in Europe without becoming involved in war with these people and others believe that by getting and equipping we can assist France and England to win without danger to our own country. In addition to these, however, there are men among us of less honesty who advocate staying closer and closer to war knowing well that a point exists beyond which there can be no turning back. They have baited the trap of war with requests for modest assistance. This latter group is meeting with success at the moment. "There is a saying that grew in the Old West to the effect that a man who enjoys life should never touch his gun unless he means business; that he should never draw unless he is ready to shoot, and that he should never shoot unless he is ready to kill. Those old pioneers of ours knew from long experience that there can be no successful dabbling with death. But the red blooded wisdom of the Old West is gone from American politics today. Our present danger results from making gestures with an empty gun after we have already lost the draw. Fortunately the wide wall of the Atlantic stands between us and the shooting that is going on. Says America "Interference." "This dabbling we have been doing in European affairs can lead only to failure in the future as it has in the past. It is not a policy that we can continue to follow and remain a great nation. Let us look at our position today. Our leaders have lost the influence we could have exerted as the world's greatest neutral nation. The driftnets of munitions have sold to England and France have had a negligible effect on the trend of the war, and we have not sufficient military strength available to change that trend. We demand that foreign nations refrain from interfering in our hemisphere, yet we constantly interfere in theirs. And while we have been taking an ineffective part in the war abroad, we have incessantly neglected our defenses at home. In fact we have let our own affairs drift along until we have not even a plan of defense for the continent of North America. We have been doing to England and France what they did to Abyssinia, to Czechoslovakia, to Poland, to Finland and to Norway—we have encouraged them to hope for help we cannot send. Yet with these examples before us, we still continue on that course—the same course that led England to failure abroad and weakness at home, a course that will lead us, also, to a disastrous and unsuccessful war if we persist in following it. Need Months To Prepare. "When the subject of our preparations

F. F. A. Conservation of Wild Life
The local chapter received 60, three week old pheasants, from the State Department of Conservation. The F. F. A. boys namely: David Wiseman, Ernest Collins, Daniel Devoe, Wallace Collins and William Struwing are raising these birds. These pheasants will be liberated at the age of 10 weeks on the boys' farms. A few will be purchased by the state to restock other areas.

Projects
Ernest Collins and David Wiseman planted food patches along side their wild life safety zones. The purpose of these food patches, consisting of soybeans, buckwheat, German millet, and corn, is to supply food for wild life during the winter months.

Kenneth Spahr recently purchased a registered Berkshire gilt for a project in Vocational Agriculture. George Lovett has just purchased a registered Duroc gilt from William Watt to be added to his F.F.A. project program. Other boys hope to buy registered gilts for projects before school begins.

Summer arrives Friday, today, officially at 8:37 a. m. but the weather man predicts the temperature will be lower than what we have had the past few weeks. Cold winds out of the northwest account for the delightful weather the past few days.
